Dr. A. L. Elviyn, Philadelphia, Treasurer, Prof. Joseph Lovering, Cambridge, Mass., Permanent Secretary.

The following gentlemen were elected Local Committee : J. B. Lindsley, M. D. Nashville, Tenn., Henri Erni, Prof. P. F. Eure, F. B. Fogg, Col. Fitman, Randall McGaroe, Dr. C. Foster, Jr., Curram Mc-Na'ry, Henry Yeatman, Benjamin C. Jilli

Prof. Harman read a paper upon the Hight, Vetocity, &c., of the Meteors of July 20, 1860. It passed 12 miles south of West Point, 30 miles south of New Haven, and 35 this side of New York. Its base line was 215 mile long. Its velocity was a little over eight miles a second, apparently. Its diarreter was about 63-100 ing this plan: It was proposed to light mile or one thend of that of the moon. Its heingut was 40 miles.

Dr. Gould was down for a paper upon 20, 1860. The first a day exploded and the explosion was beard over a portion of country equal to 50 by 100 miles. It was seen from the northern part of Vermont to Unnden, N. J., from Utica, N. Y., to the castern part of Massachusetts. He addressed 70 circulars to as many percons for information; the answer to which from 20 persons were alone of any value. And oven these furnished no satisfactory data. He having been prevented by circumstances from using these data, hoped soon to be able to give as perfect a result as the means at command would allow. The meteor of July 20th, 1860, was observed so entisfactorily that he hoped soon to be able to work out the results, which will be of amurous but no nitric acid, and that the great value. It was seen over a surface of nitrogen was had out from the laud is recountry extending from Detroit, Mich., to turned or compensated for in the way of Cape Cod, and from Petersburg, Va., to ammonia. the northern part of Mnine. Especially did he hope to be able to determine a question upon we ich he was undecided -- whether its orbit was convex or concave, and if it revolved around the carth.

Dr. Gould was succeeded by Prof. 511liman, Jr., who made a remark which called up Dr. Gould again, who related the circum stances attending an incident which occurred in Cambridge about the time that the last meteor was seen, and which was armounced in the public journals of that day. The incident was-a limb of a tree about one foot in diameter was out three quarters off, and in consequence the limb reclined upon a building user, and two barrels of appleacovered the ground. The cut was apparently produced by no known means in the power of man. He made faithful search after fragments which might have produced those results, but none could be found. Some five or six persons as erted that they saw the light, or fire, of a ball, which produced the effect; but he confessed himself puzzled as to how the effect was produced.

"On Induction. Time in Electro Megnets "-was reed by B. A. Gould.

"On motions of Urena" was read b Truman Henry Safford,

"On the possibility of expressing the polar co-ordinates of the Asteroides by converging series admitting of Tabulation,"

-was read by G. W. Conkley.
"On certain variable stars". by Dr. Gould, of Cambridge. The Doctor commenced, by giving a very amusing account of the united facilities for astronomical observations at the Dudley Observatory, when the first observations were taken at that Institution. He stated that his great object in reading this paper was to awaken an interest in making elserva-trouble to make these observations, and yet the rewards which would follow, are sure, and of immense value. He called attention to a few of this class of stars, and spoke of the p-culiarities of variation belonging to each, specifying what advantages would result from fur her observetions.

Prof. Charles W. Hackley suggested

theories for accounting for this variability. "Abstract of the principal results of the astronomical observations at Van Rensselser harbor and other places near the northwest coset of Greenland, made by the second Grinnell Expedition under command of Dr. E. K Kane, U. S. Nevy, during 1853 54-55, from a reduction and discursion by Charles A. Schot', Assistant Coast Survey." Presented by A. D. Bache.

Remarks were made upon the paper by Professors Coffin, Coakley and Bache, "Eystematic views of mechanisms. Ey E. B Hunt.

Capt. Hunt stated that owing to the late period of the Convention he should not read the paper, but confine bimself to Prof's Rogers, Henry, and others, bore testimony to the beauty of Capt. Hunt's paper, and made remarks of interest, particularly Prof. Henry, upon the views advanced by the reader.

BECTION U.

Prof. William B. Rogers was elected chairman of the day.

"On the Paradoxes of the atomic The. ory of Chemists, with a proposition of a new Hypothesis," by Clinton Loosevelt. The new theory is, that the creative Atom existed at the Creation, since something cannot be made from nothing; and the reader's object was apparently to completely overturn the prevailing theories in regard to olden and modern chemistry.

Prof. Horeford read-"Upon the hurning of Bertlan's Mechanical Bakery in Boston." The most careful investigations seemed to indicate that the destruction of this establishment was due to spontaneous combustion.

"A new ommonia chrome alum, and the violet, green and red modifications of Chronic Salt," by E. N. Horsford, This was comfortably obstruss.

"On the prevention of the occurrence of Fire Damp in Collieries by the use of Coal Gas." This paper was read by Capt. E.B. Hunt, and was very interesting, developthe miners by means of coal gas, car fully and thoroughly preventing the atmosphere of the mine from coming in contact with power, force coal gas and upper air into the mines. The apparatus, either fixed or portable, would give results most beneficial at small expense.

Prof. Rogers and others entered upon an interesting and somewhat lengthy discussion of the surject-" On the time neceseary to double the pressure of steam under certain circumstances, and the practical lessons therefrom," by Mr. James Hyatt.

Mr. Pugh read a paper "On the Nitrio Acid and Ammonia in Rain Water, collected September, 1859.beiween New York and Liverpro!, about the middle line of the Atlantic Ocean." Mr. Pugh found that in rain water there was a large amount of AFTERNOON SESSION -4 3.4 o'clock, In general session.

Prof. Schofield, of West Point, was elected Chairman. Prof. J. D. Whitney's paper was read "on the origin of prairies in the Northwest," He spoke of Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and a part of Illinois. Pater considering various theories, and giving reasons which, in his opinion, were facel to them, he gave his own theory. It was this : that the prairies were the beds we former lakes, which had been gradually filled up to a dry state. The reason why there are no trees, is because of the extreme fineness of the soil, owing to the goological depost-

Mr. Clum ettributed De absence of tree to an absence of moistgree Col. J. W. Newbury confirmed the latter view.

At this stage of business, Prof. Bache endounced the arrivel of (2) U. S. Steamer Mibb, with the party eine went out to Labrador to observe the recent colar eclips. He also announced that Prof. Alexander would be happy to receive the members, of the Association at the Bella Vue House during the evening.

On motion of Pro., Table, it was voted that the Association most this morning at 9 o'clock, in order that as account of the observations of the colinse might be read to the Association at that hour.

"Influence of difference in the mean velocity of winds from the different points of the compara, in modifying the mean direction of the atmospheric currents over the United States-discussed by the direction and at the expense of the Smithsonian Invitution, from materials or llected in its archires for the years 1854, '56 and '7," by Jas. H. Coffin.

Mr. C. C. Coffin of Boston, read a pations upon these stars, which were within per "upon the Aurora display of last the reach of all who have even a good night." After giving a somewhat minute opera glass, and which would become of description of the display, which gave congreat value. It was comparatively of little clusies avidence that the gratieman was well sequestated with his subject, he gave these opinions that the Aurora is related to the the ran condition of the atmosphere; the coy remarkable display is due to a change in the thermal electricity of the earth or the cimosphere.

LOUAL ITEMS.

Brief Locals

BY THE MAN ABOUT TOWN It was only by diut of great exertions, that Mr. Helmsmuller succeeded in opening Fort Adams to the public during the present season coupled with musical ontertainments on Thurs. day afternoons. In order to do this he was obliged to subscribe to certain rules and regulations, which were pub ished in our paper of the 1st inst. One of these regulations is, that persons, whether on foot or on herseback, shall keep off the grass. This regulation, we are sorry to say was unheaded at the concert last Thursday by persons riding across the laws within the fortification. It is hoped that none will be so far forgetful of their stauding as ladies and gentlemen as to break over this rule egain, as the result of further infringement must necessarily be the clossing of the fort and with it the end of the concerts.

– J. A. Williams, Esq., our enterprising townsman, is making the tour of the city, taking stereoscopio aketches of all localities of interest. In oprrecinoss and beauty of execution, his pictures have no superior, and we recommend him to the favorable notice of sejournors here. There sketches he is putting up in ment cases of twolve each, comprising vithe hotels, Purgetory and other points of like leterest. His place is directly opposite Apple. neck Engine House No. 3, in the north part of Thames Street.

- It will be seen by advertisement, that J. M. Swan to-day removes his boot and shoe store to his new location, 100 Thames Street—a much better piece then that from which he has removed.

- The Ocean and Atlantic Houses are appounced as being full, though we suppose, like a full omnibus, they are always ready to take "one more." All the hotels are doing better and paying more to the proprietors than last year. The second Hop of the season at the Ocean House takes place this evening.

--- Auguste Belmont Esq., gave a grand Fete Champetre at the Glen yesterday, at which a large number of invited guests were present. The music was by Helmanutler's Germanians.

-The first Hop of the Season at the next. Arrangements have been made for a first class party.

- The funerals of two children were attended at St Mary's oburob yesterday afternoon. - A pair of horses attached to a carriage at the Beach started to run yesterday and had reached the top of Beach Hill, running at the top of their speed, when they were heroically stopped by Philip Place, a stage-driver who left his own team for the purpose, and seizing the reins brought them to a stand-still-an act of bravery worthy of notice.

-The rush for the Beach yesterday was upprecedented. Bath road, from 10 A. M. to P. M., was alive with vehicles of every description, going to and from the bath.

BY THE MAN IN THE BOAT.

The sloop Blenche, of Staton Island, Capt. P. M. Post, arrived here yesterday morning with an exeursion party from Bergen Point, N. J., which they left Aug. 3d, and came via Now London and Block Island. They sail this A. M. for New Bedford and Vineyard Islands on fishing cruise. The following names comprise the party : Capt. David Latomette, Bergen Point. Col. John Van Buskirk, J. C. Dutcher, D. D., New York. Griffith Rawe, Whitestone. J. P. Bliven, M. D., New York. A. L. Rowe. Bergen Point. S. T. Brown,

Hon. H. M. Hyde, The little craft, as she lay in the barbor literally covered with flags and streamers, precented quite a holiday appearance. We bespeak for the gentlemen comprising the party a hearty recoption at whatever port they chance to call, and add our wishes for their safe return to their homes refreshed and invigorated by their short season of relaxation.

- The U. S. Steamer Bibb, of the Coast Surveyor, Lieut A. Maury commanding, steamed into our harbor yesterday from the coast of Labrador, to which region she had been disputched for scientific purposes connected with the recent celipse of the sun. From her log-book to which we were couricously allowed access by the officers, we gather the following particulars of her cruise. The Bibb encountered a terere gale of wind on the 5th ult., which she rods out without damage, 8th ult. had to run into a harbor, on account of a thick fog which prevailed. 11th ult., in a thick fog, struck upon a fedge of rooks in the Straits of Nain, split stem and twisted nortion of keel. 5th inst., weather foggy, struck on Rugged Island, N. S., but came off immediately atterwards, not, however, without causing the vessel to leak to such a degree as to keep the sleam pump constantly at work to keep her from The officers report seeing icobergs almost con-stantly after the first of July, some of which were as far south as the Straits of Belle Isle. The Bibb sails to-day for New York,

PERSONAL-Baron J. Rothschild, from Per.s, has arrived and engaged rooms at the Ocean House for two weeks. Gen. Geo. P. Morris, of the Home Journal, has also taken rooms at the same hotel. Also the Marquis Pio Del Bufalo, from New York.
